

Young girl with evil spirit follows Paul and Silas and shouts out who they are and what they are doing.

Paul and Silas in jail, chained and with feet in the stock, sing praises to God at midnight

Alarmed by an earthquake, the jailer rushes in to Paul and Silas who are standing free and asks how to be saved.

In the jailer's house, Paul and Silas are kindly treated, having their wounds attended to and given something to eat.